DUTIES OF THE OFFICERS OF THE DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE.

ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The Attorney General is the head of the Department of Justice and the chief law officer of the Government. He represents the United States in matters involving legal questions; he gives his advice and opinion when they are required by the President or by the heads of the other executive departments on questions of law arising in the administration of their respective departments; he appears in the Supreme Court of the United States in cases of especial gravity and importance; he exercises a general superintendence and direction over United States attorneys and marshals in all judicial districts in the States and Territories, and he provides special counsel for the United States whenever required by any department of the Government.

SOLICITOR GENERAL.

The Solicitor General assists the Attorney General in the performance of his general duties, and by special provision of law, in case of a vacancy in the office of Attorney General, or of his absence or disability, exercises all those duties. Under the direction of the Attorney General, he has general charge of the business of the Government in the Supreme Court of the United States, and is assisted in the conduct and argument of cases therein by the Assistant Attorneys General. He also, with the approval of the Attorney General, prepares opinions rendered to the President and the heads of the executive departments, and confers with and directs the law officers of the Government throughout the country in the performance of their duties. When the Attorney General so directs, any case in which the United States is interested, in any court of the United States, may be conducted and argued by the Solicitor General, and he may be sent by the Attorney General to attend to the interests of the United States in any State court, or elsewhere.

ASSISTANT TO THE ATTORNEY GENERAL.

The Assistant to the Attorney General has special charge of all suits and other matters arising under the Federal antitrust and interstate commerce laws, and performs such other duties as may be required of him by the Attorney General.

ASSISTANT ATTORNEYS GENERAL.

The several Assistant Attorneys General assist the Attorney General in the performance of his duties. They assist in the argument of cases in the Supreme Court and in the preparation of legal opinions, and, in addition to their general duties, particular subjects are assigned to them by the Attorney General for the transaction of business arising thereunder with the United States attorneys, other departments, and private parties in interest

The Assistant Attorney General in charge of the interests of the Government in all matters of reappraisement and classification of imported goods in litigation before the several boards of United States General Appraisers and the Court of Customs Appeals is located at 641 Washington Street, New York City.

The Solicitors for several of the executive departments, under the provisions of sections 349–350, Revised Statutes, exercise their functions under the supervision and control of the Attorney General. They are the Solicitor for the Department of the Interior, the Solicitor for the Department of State, the Solicitor of the Treasury, the Solicitor of Internal Revenue, the Solicitor of the Department of Commerce, and the Solicitor of the Department of Labor.

SOLICITOR FOR THE INTERIOR DEPARTMENT.

This Solicitor is the chief law officer of that department. When requested, he advises the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries upon questions of law arising in the administration of the department. All appeals from the various bureaus are sent to his office for consideration. Oral arguments are heard by him in the more important cases, and decisions are prepared under his supervision for the signature of the Secretary and his assistant. The Solicitor is aided in this and his other work by the Court of Appeals and 25 assistant attorneys.

SOLICITOR FOR THE DEPARTMENT OF STATE.

The Solicitor is the chief law officer of that department. He advises the Secretary and Assistant Secretaries upon questions of municipal and international law referred to him, passes upon claims of citizens of the United States against foreign Governments, claims of subjects or citizens of foreign Governments against the United States, and upon applications for the extradition of criminals. The Assistant Solicitor acts as Solicitor in the absence of the latter, and in the division of the work of the office has general charge of extradition and citizenship matters.

SOLICITOR OF THE TREASURY.

The Solicitor of the Treasury is the chief law officer of that department. His duties are to advise the Secretary of the Treasury and other officers of that department upon matters of law arising therein, to approve the bonds of United States treasurers, collectors of internal revenue, and to examine all contracts of, and official bonds filed in, the Treasury Department. He also examines titles to life-saving station sites and renders such legal services in connection with matters arising in the administrative work of the Treasury Department as may be required of him by the Attorney General.

SOLICITOR OF INTERNAL REVENUE.

A Solicitor of Internal Revenue was added to the Internal-Revenue Office corps by the act of July 13, 1866 (14 Stat., 170), but by the act of June 22, 1870 (16 Stat., 162), organizing the Department of Justice, the Solicitor was formally transferred to that department. He is the law officer and legal adviser of the Commissioner. The only duties of his of which mention is made by law are in connection with internal-revenue compromise cases, section 3229, Revised Statutes.

SOLICITOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF COMMERCE.

The Solicitor is the chief law officer of that department. His duties are to act as legal adviser for the Secretary of Commerce and the chiefs of the various bureaus of said department, to prepare and examine all contracts and bonds entered into or required by the said department, and to render such legal services in connection with matters arising in the administrative work of the Department of Commerce as may be required of him by the Attorney General.

SOLICITOR OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LABOR.

The Solicitor is the chief law officer of that department. His duties are to act as legal adviser for the Secretary of Labor and the chiefs of the various bureaus of said department, to prepare and examine all contracts and bonds entered into or required by the said department, and to render such legal services in connection with matters arising in the administrative work of the Department of Labor as may be required of him by the Attorney General.

CHIEF CLERK AND GENERAL ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT.

The chief clerk, as general administrative officer of the operating forces of the department, has, under the direction of the Attorney General, general supervision of the Division of Accounts, the office of the disbursing clerk, the office of the appointment clerk, and matters concerning the assignment of Federal judges. He also has general supervision of the appropriations; the assembling and supervision of the preparation of the annual report and the estimates; the purchase and distribution of supplies for the department and the United States courts; superintendence of the building occupied by the department in Washington and the assignment of the department's space in public buildings in the field; general supervision of the clerks and employees and the business operations of the department; direction of the force of messengers, watchmen, laborers, and charwomen; handling of the miscellaneous mail of the department; charge of the automobiles employed; assembling and distribution of opinions and publications; and passes upon requisitions upon the Public Printer for printing and binding and applications for leave of absence, and recommendation for appointment of notaries public.

Appointments and authorizations of every character are handled by the Attorney General's office through the chief clerk.

THE DIVISION OF ACCOUNTS.

The Chief of the Division of Accounts has charge of the examination or audit of all accounts payable from appropriations for expenses of the Department of Justice and the courts of the United States; accounts of United States marshals, attorneys, clerks, and commissioners are examined, recorded, and transmitted to the auditor; while other accounts are recorded, audited, and transmitted to the disbursing clerk for payment, under recent legislation.

Preparation of authorizations of court expenses, including items for office expenses and clerical assistants for clerks of United States courts; the approval of leases of court accommodations; and the advancement of funds to United States marshals.

Statistical information showing the business transacted in the courts of the United States, bankruptcy statistics, and the various reports required by law pertaining to expenditures under appropriations for the courts are also compiled in this division for use in the annual report.

General supervision of the examination of the offices and records of Federal court officials and general direction of the work of the examiners.

Statistical information published in the annual report of the Attorney General showing the business transacted in the courts of the United States, bankruptcy statistics, and the various reports required by law pertaining to expenditures under appropriations for the courts and the department are also compiled in this division.

APPOINTMENT CLERK.

The appointment clerk has charge of all matters relating to applications, recommendations, and appointments, including certifications by the Civil Service Commission; conducts correspondence pertaining thereto; prepares nominations sent to the Senate prepares commissions and appointments for the officers and employees of the department in Washington, and for United States judges, attorneys, and marshals, and other officers under the department. He also compiles the Register of the Department of Justice and matter relating to that department for the Official Register of the United States.

DISBURSING CLERK.

The disbursing clerk disburses funds from about 40 appropriations, including the salaries of the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, the judges of the other United States courts in the District of Columbia; of judges retired under section 260 of the Judicial Code, and of the officials of the department proper; supplies for United States courts; the contingent expenses of the department, and other special and miscellaneous appropriations. He is also authorized and directed by law to withhold and account for the income tax.

LIBRARIAN.

The librarian has general charge and supervision of the library. He is a member of the committee for the selection of books to be purchased for the library; directs the cataloguing, and cooperates generally in the service of the library.

PRIVATE SECRETARY.

The private secretary and assistant to the Attorney General, in addition to the usual duties devolving upon such an official, has charge of the approval and recommendation to the Attorney General of all classes of authorization requiring the Attorney General's approval; of consideration and investigation of the qualifications of all applicants for appointment as United States judge, United States district attorney, or United States marshal, including reviewing and collating indorsements and holding personal interviews with applicants, Members of Congress, and others favoring or opposing their appointment.

He is also charged with the duty of receiving complaints; initiating investigations and preparing recommendations on same for the Attorney General where charges were made of misconduct or unfitness for office of United States attorney, United States marshal, and other employees of the department. and is in charge of publicity for the department.

He also reviews, supervises, and makes recommendations to the Attorney General in all matters relating to questions of general policy in the work of the office.

CHIEF, DIVISION OF INVESTIGATION.

The Chief of the Division of Investigation has general supervision of the examination of the offices and records of the Federal court officials throughout the United States, and directs the work of all the examiners, special agents, and accountants of the department, whose compensation or expenses are paid from the appropriation "Detection and prosecution of crimes," and who are employed for the purpose of collecting evidence or of making investigations or examinations of any kind for this department or the officers thereof.

SUPERINTENDENT OF PRISONS.

The superintendent of prisons has charge, under the direction of the Attorney General, of all matters relating to United States prisons and prisoners, including the support of such prisoners in both State and Federal penitentiaries, in reform schools, and in county jails. He has supervision over the construction work in progress at United States penal institutions.

The superintendent of prisons is ex officio the president of the boards of parole for the United States penitentiaries and the president of the board of parole for United States prisoners in each State or county institution used for the confinement of United States prisoners.

ATTORNEY IN CHARGE OF PARDONS.

The attorney in charge of pardons takes charge of all applications for Executive clemency, except those in Army and Navy cases, these being referred to the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, respectively; of the briefing of the cases and the correspondence in relation to them.

ATTORNEY IN CHARGE OF TITLES.

The attorney in charge of titles prepares opinions upon the title to lands belonging to or sought to be acquired by the Government for public purposes and opinions upon all legal matters growing out of the same. He has charge of all proceedings to acquire land under eminent domain, and conducts all the correspondence relating to the above matters.

[2] Brewster did not take the oath of office until Jan. 2, 1882.

NOTE.—The names of Theophilus Parsons, Robert Smith, Joseph Holt, and Orville H. Browning are omitted for the following reasons:

Theophilus Parsons, of Massachusetts, was nominated on Feb. 18, 1801, as Attorney General in place of Charles Lee, and was confirmed by the Senate, but no commission was issued, as he declined to accept the office. His name is sometimes erroneously included in the lists of Attorneys General.

Robert Smith, of Maryland, who had been Secretary of the Navy for four years, was a lawyer and was anxious to be Attorney General. Jefferson agreed to appoint him provided a suitable Secretary of the Navy could be secured. Accordingly, on Mar. 2, 1805, he nominated Robert Smith as Attorney General, and Jacob Crowninshield, of Massachusetts, as Secretary of the Navy. Both nominations were confirmed, and commissions were issued on Mar. 3, but Crowninshield declined to accept the office tendered to him. Robert Smith continued to act as Secretary of the Navy, and never took the oath of office or performed any duties as Attorney General, and, as a matter of fact, never held the office, though usually included in lists of the Attorneys General. Complete proof that John Breckinridge succeeded Levi Lincoln and that Robert Smith was never Attorney General is found in the following extracts from the United States Reports (3 Cranch, III): "On the 12th day of Feb., 1806, the honorable John Breckinridge was sworn in as Attorney General of the United States in the place of the honorable Levi Lincoln, resigned."

Joseph Holt: On Dec. 1, 1864, the President appointed Joseph Holt, of Kentucky, Attorney General. Mr. Holt absolutely declined to accept the office, and on Dec. 2 James Speed, of Kentucky, was appointed Attorney General.

Orville H. Browning: On Mar. 12, 1868, Attorney General Stanbery resigned in order to serve as one of the counsel of President Johnson in the impeachment proceedings before the Senate. It was the President's intention to reappoint him after the trial, so, instead of appointing a successor to Mr. Stanbery, he appointed Orville H. Browning, Secretary of the Interior, Attorney General ad interim, and directed him to perform the duties of that office in addition to his own as Secretary of the Interior.
